L. W. McCORD, Editor and Publisher.
OFFICE 50. EAST CORNER PUBLIC SQUARE—UP STAIRS.
TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.
Four Dollars per Annum, Invariably in Advance.
PULASKI, TENN.,
FRIDAY MORNING, FEB'Y. 23, 1866.

TWELVE freight cars were dropped at this place on Wednesday, and four yesterday, loaded with groceries and provisions.

Nkw.—There are a number of new legal advertisements in this paper, to which we invite attention.

HOME MADE.—We are sorry you withheld your name. We will take pleasure in publishing your contributions, but your real name must be known to us first.

FRIENDS OR FOES.—We have on file a beautiful poem written by a "Yank" to a "Reb," which was received by a friend on the 14 inst as a Valentine. It will appear in our columns next week, together with the reply.

FRESH ARRIVALS.—Since our last, J. D. FLAUNT & Co. have received 80 bbls. flour, 50 bbls. Irish potatoes, 500 bushels oats, grass seeds, sugar, coffee, iron, etc. They are constantly in receipt of new goods, and better goods.

The bill providing for the winding up of the State Bank of Tennessee, which passed the Senate some days since, was passed on its final reading on the 18th inst.

Mr. Foote declares that Davis' cabinet consisted of two knaves, Benjamin and Seddon; two fools, Mallory and Meminger; and only two members, Watts and Reagan, "whose qualifications were respectable."

"THE WIZARD OF THE SADDLE."—All the reports about GEN. FORREST having fled the country, are untrue. The Memphis Bulletin and the Appeal both tell us that he was in Memphis on Sunday last. He has been at his plantation in Mississippi.

SMALL POX.—We believe there is but one case of this disease among the white population of Pulaski. We are encouraged in the hope that it is abating, and will soon disappear from our midst.

TO BE PITTED.—Our stirring fellow-citizen, W. J. RAINY, is now under the ban of that most dreadful of all diseases, the small pox. John Happy would say, he is to be "pitted." We are glad to hear that he is thought to be recovering rapidly. We trust he'll not be "pitted" enough to spoil him.

HEAVY RECEIPTS.—The receipts of freight, by railroad, has been very heavy for a few days past. In fact, some have even intimated a belief that our merchants had bought out Nashville or Louisville, and were now engaged in having it shipped down home.

Cheering.
The efforts of our friends to increase the subscription list of the Citizen, are, we rejoice to say, proving very successful. We have received assurances from every part of the county, except, perhaps, two neighborhoods, that the people generally like the tone and temper of our paper. They are proving this in a manner most satisfactory to us, by forming clubs in their neighborhoods, and sending in, every week, new names for the lists. The delinquent neighborhoods will wake up after a while. They used to patronize us more liberally than any other portions of the county. We are sure they will come again.

The Pulaski Literary League.
MR. EDITOR:—It is my pleasant duty to announce to you, that you have been unanimously elected an "associate" or honorary member of the "Pulaski Literary League." The society, composed of a number of young men of our city, for the advancement of literature and science, and the acquisition of liberal knowledge, has never been in a more flourishing condition than now; and yet, there is reason to believe, that the star of its glory has not yet reached its zenith. They are governed by the rules and principles of parliamentary usage, but a little different from this august body of Her Britannic Majesty's, they have only a house of Lords. Political questions are forbidden for discussion; so you see, sir, there is yet, in "this distracted land," one assemblage of deliberators and debaters who do not consume all their time in fussing and squabbling about "Nigger Suffrage" and "Freedmen's Bureau Bills," while we may live in hopes, that this, and other similar institutions, may—some day—be the means through which our country shall be ruled by more sensible men.

The subject for discussion next meeting is—"Resolved, That a Republican or a Monarchical form of Government is the more stable." A full attendance and an exciting debate is expected, and your presence would be hailed with great pleasure. Come—and see the British Lion bearded in his den—the American Eagle slaughtered, and behold the pouring tears of sympathy for the poor oppressed "Fenians," who will yet throw off the yoke of tyranny and "wear the green" and tread again, in freedom, the beautiful isle of the Shamrock. Come, to the resurrection of Marcus Brutus, and tread with him again the palatial halls of the ancient Roman Republic, and listen to the eloquence of her orators and her statesmen, and then behold the majestic walls crumble into dust, to be numbered among the things that were. Come, and gaze with us, upon the grandeur of the English Monarchy, which has withstood the storms and dissensions, of revolution and war for hundreds of years, and the young America, with her pillars of state still firm, though shaken from centre to circumference by the thunders of rebellious arms. Come, and leave, for awhile, your "exchanges," whose columns are filled with disgusting Radical harangues. Come—and bring with you your casket of intellectual jewels, as another ornament to this frugal board, at the "feast of reason." CADMUS.

We thank the Pulaski "Literary League" for the honor thus conferred, and we thank our friend, CADMUS, for the complimentary manner in which he informs us of these honors. Our thanks due him further for his contributions to our columns, and we trust he will favor us often.

Of course we will take great pleasure in leaving for a while each week the monotonous perplexities of editorial life, to enjoy such a feast as our friend invites us to.

We rejoice to know that the League is in a flourishing condition, but we are not at all surprised at this, knowing as we do that it is composed of the talent of Pulaski.

We shall have more to say of the League in a future issue.

On Tuesday the Democracy throughout the North fired salutes in honor of President Johnson and his veto of the Freedmen's Bureau bill.

Two lunatics in an asylum in England, met, loved, courted, married and became sane.

LATIN.—"Because we ventured last week," says an exchange, "to introduce a few Latin words into a paragraph, just to make a little show of our knowledge, a contemporary quotes Latin at us in a most ferocious manner. He says 'Nihil sit.' Who is Nihil? Who did he fight? and what did he fight for?"

The Republican majority in Congress are attempting to induce the President to sign the Freedmen's Bureau Bill, by saying that they will admit the Tennessee delegation to their seats.

In the Kentucky Legislature, the committee appointed to examine buildings at Louisville for legislative purposes, reported in favor of removing the capital to that city.

CONGRESS now proposes to declare all persons born in the United States, citizens. This includes, of course, people of African descent as well as others. The children of uncivilized races are thus to be declared part of the family of the great republic.
